

Workshop on Basic Cardiac Life Support

One day course in Basic Cardiac Life Support (BCLS) was conducted for the post-graduate students as per the order of National Medical Council in Gouridevi Institute of Medical sciences and Hospital on 20th May 2024. Faculties from Respiratory medicine, Emergency medicine, Critical care, Anesthesiology, Paediatrics and Neonatology, Obstetrics and Gynaecology and Cardiology were present as a resource person. Our Dean and Principal inaugurated the program. More than thirty healthcare professions were present from various dept like Nursing, ICU technician, OT technician. The candidates were guided individually for the hands-on demonstration of CPR. Post session evaluation was satisfactory. The program was ended after delivering vote of thanks and a certificate to all the participants.

